The first day of each session shall begin at 10:00 a.m. Each day thereafter, court shall begin at 9:30 a.m. The first jury pool will report at 9:00 a.m. on Monday and the second jury pool will report at 9:00 a.m. on Wednesday when called during the second week only of our two-week sessions. The criminal sessions for 2021 are as follows:

Except as modified due to the pandemic, the administrative calendar will be called the first day of each session at 10:00 a.m. The probation calendar will be called the first day of each session at 2:00 p.m. The pre-trial calendar and trial calendar will be called at 9:30 a.m. on the second day of each session.

The schedule listed above is subject to change based upon the needs of the matters pending.

Administrative matters and pleas will be addressed on a time certain basis. To accomplish this, counsel will be asked at calendar call when they would like to have their cases addressed during that session of court. Once a time is approved, the attorney and the defendant will be released and expected to return at the beginning of the selected hour with all paper work completed and ready to have the case addressed. Attorneys and their clients are expected to have their personal calendars with them at calendar call so a time is selected. Counsel, however, can select a plea time in advance of calendar call by submitting a signed plea transcript to the District Attorney. In that event, the Defendant and his or her counsel need not be present at calendar call or they can simply report to court at the selected time.

At the time of the entry of this order, there are numerous administrative orders entered related to pandemic procedures. These administrative orders and others that may be entered in the future will affect our schedule and the general terms of this order.
