NORTH CAROLINA SENTENCING AND POLICY ADVISORY COMMISSION

REPORT ON PROPOSED LEGISLATION PURSUANT TO G.S. 164-43

This report by the Sentencing Commission includes all bills introduced or amended through April 14, 2025. The report is submitted in conformance with the following requirements of G.S. 164-43:

(e) Upon adoption of a system for the classification of offenses formulated pursuant to G.S. 164-41, the Commission or its successor shall review all proposed legislation which creates a new criminal offense, changes the classification of an offense, or changes the range of punishment for a particular classification, and shall make recommendations to the General Assembly.

(f) In the case of a new criminal offense, the Commission or its successor shall determine whether the proposal places the offense in the correct classification, based upon the considerations and principles set out in G.S. 164-41. If the proposal does not assign the offense to a classification, it shall be the duty of the Commission or its successor to recommend the proper classification placement.

(g) In the case of proposed changes in the classification of an offense or changes in the range of punishment for a classification, the Commission or its successor shall determine whether such a proposed change is consistent with the considerations and principles set out in G.S. 164-41 and shall report its findings to the General Assembly.

(h) The Commission or its successor shall meet within 10 days after the last day for filing general bills in the General Assembly for the purpose of reviewing bills as described in subsections (e), (f) and (g). The Commission or its successor shall include in its report on a bill an analysis based on an application of the correctional population simulation model to the provisions of the bill.

A summary is included for each bill (or each relevant section of a bill) which either creates a new crime, changes the classification of an existing crime, or prescribes a new range of punishments. The summary provides the bill number, the short title, and a brief description. At the bottom of the summary is an analysis and a finding of whether the bill appears consistent with the Commission's classification criteria (see following page for a description of the criteria) or with the felony punishment chart. Following the summary is an analysis of the projected impact of the bill when one has been requested and published by the General Assembly. The impact estimates assume an effective date of December 1, 2025.

These summaries may not reflect the most recent bill amendments or committee substitutes. The date on which each individual summary was reviewed is shown on the bottom left hand corner of each summary page. Changes made after this date are not reflected in this report.

The bills included in this report were reviewed by the Sentencing Commission on April 14, 2025.

The fact that the Commission found a bill to be either consistent or inconsistent with the structured sentencing offense classification criteria does not imply either support for or opposition to the bill. In this report, the Commission has taken no position on the merits of any bill other than those specifically proposed by the Commission.

THE OFFENSE CLASSIFICATION CRITERIA

The Sentencing Commission was required by G.S. 164-41 to ".... classify criminal offenses into felony and misdemeanor categories on the basis of their severity." The Commission developed classification criteria to guide the classification process and to ensure that there was a systematic and rational basis for the classifications. The Commission decided that the severity of an offense should be directly related to the harm to the victim that normally results or tends to result from the criminal conduct.

The Commission defined three general types of harms: 1) harms to person (including both physical and mental injury); 2) harms to property; and 3) harms to society (violations of public order and welfare, violations of judicial or governmental operations, and/or violations of public morality). Through considerable discussion and debate, the Commission grouped these harms into a ten-level hierarchy which served as the basis for the Commission's classifications (refer to the classification criteria on the following page). Once the classification criteria were established, the Commission reviewed the individual elements of all felonies in North Carolina and assigned each felony to a specific offense class based on how closely the elements of the crime matched the classification criteria. The Commission did not apply the classification criteria to homicide and controlled substances offenses.

The purpose of establishing the classification criteria was to create a rational and consistent philosophical basis for classifying offenses; to assure proportionality in severity; and to provide a guidepost for classifying new crimes in the future.

Under the classification criteria, the most serious offense classes (A through F) primarily involve personal injury, the risk of personal injury, serious societal injury, or widespread societal injury. The lower offense levels (G through I) primarily involve property loss or less serious societal injury. The degree of harm is divided into three levels; injury to person, property, or society; significant injury to person, property, or society; and serious injury to person, property, or society.

The Commission also assigned misdemeanor offenses to four classes: class A1, class 1, class 2, or class 3. The Commission did not create classification criteria for misdemeanors but relied on the maximum sentences previously set by the General Assembly. Generally, crimes which had previously been punishable by over six months were made class 1 misdemeanors, those previously punishable by more than 30 days and up to six months were made class 2 misdemeanors, and those previously punishable by 30 days or less were made class 3 misdemeanors. Assaultive misdemeanors were made Class A1 misdemeanors.

In 2012 the Commission adopted a separate set of classification criteria to be used for reviewing the proposed classification of homicide offenses. These criteria resemble the Commission's harm-based offense classification criteria but rely upon factors other than harm to evaluate the severity of a homicide offense.

ANALYSIS OF BILL TO CHANGE THE CLASS OF AN EXISTING OFFENSE
(PREPARED PURSUANT TO G.S. 164-43)

BILL NUMBER/SHORT TITLE: HB 28 – Gun Violence Prevention Act [Ed. 2]

STATUTE

§ 14-415.1. Possession of firearms, etc., by felon prohibited.

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (a):

A person who

1. has been convicted of a felony to
2. purchase, own, possess, or have in his custody, care, or control
3. any firearm or any weapon of mass death and destruction as defined in G.S. 14-288.8(c).

OFFENSE CLASS

CURRENT: Class G felony.

PROPOSED: Class F felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss from the person or from the person's dwelling as Class G felonies.

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in significant personal injury or serious societal injury as Class F felonies.

The Sentencing Commission reviewed a substantially similar provision in March 2025 in HB 28 [Ed. 1] and found it to be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class F felony with a note that the offense would also be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class H felony.

FINDINGS

Bill is consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Bill is inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Offense Classification Criteria are not applicable.

This offense would also be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class H felony. The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss from any structure designed to house or secure any activity or property, loss occasioned by the taking or removing of property or by breach of trust, formal or informal, in personal injury, or in significant societal injury as Class H felonies.

STATUTE

§ 14-415.1. Possession of firearms, etc., by felon prohibited.

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (a1):

A person who

1. is prohibited pursuant to G.S. 14-415.1 (Possession of firearms, etc., by felon prohibited) from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction
2. to possess a firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction
3. during the commission or attempted commission of a felony under (i) Chapter 14 or (ii) Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes and
4. did not brandish or discharge the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction during the commission or attempted commission of the felony.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class F felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in significant personal injury or serious societal injury as Class F felonies.

G.S. 14-415.1A(a) would define “brandish” as to display all or part of the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction or otherwise make the presence of the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction known to another person.

Possession of firearms, etc., by felon prohibited, is a Class G felony. (G.S. 14-415.1) (This bill would reclassify this offense from a Class G felony to a Class F felony.)

Manufacture, assembly, possession, storage, transportation, sale, purchase, delivery, or acquisition of weapon of mass death and destruction, is a Class F felony. (G.S. 14-288.8)

The Sentencing Commission reviewed a substantially similar provision in March 2025 in HB 28 [Ed. 1] and found it to be inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class F felony with a note that this offense would be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class F felony if it were not limited to persons prohibited from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction by G.S. 14-415.1.

Bill is consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Bill is inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Offense Classification Criteria are not applicable.

This offense would be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class F felony if it were not limited to persons prohibited from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction by G.S. 14-415.1. 4. the person brandishes the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction during the commission or attempted commission of the felony.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class D felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious infringements on property interest which also implicate physical safety concerns by use of a deadly weapon or an offense involving an occupied dwelling as Class D felonies.

G.S. 14-415.1A(a) would define “brandish” as to display all or part of the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction or otherwise make the presence of the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction known to another person.

Possession of firearms, etc., by felon prohibited, is a Class G felony. (G.S. 14-415.1) (This bill would reclassify this offense from a Class G felony to a Class F felony.)

Riot; inciting to riot; punishments (willfully engaging in a riot and brandishing a dangerous weapon or using a dangerous substance during a riot), is a Class H felony. (G.S. 14-288.2(c))

Manufacture, assembly, possession, storage, transportation, sale, purchase, delivery, or acquisition of weapon of mass death and destruction, is a Class F felony. (G.S. 14-288.8)

A person who is convicted of a felony and uses, displays, or threatens to use or display a firearm or deadly weapon during the commission of the felony may be subject to a minimum sentence enhancement.

- Class A through E felony, 72 months.
- Class F or G felony, 36 months.
- Class H or I felony, 12 months. (G.S. 15A-1340.16A)

4 A finding that a bill is either consistent or inconsistent with the Sentencing Commission’s Offense Classification Criteria does not imply either support for or opposition to the bill itself.

IMPACT ANALYSIS ON NEXT PAGE

NORTH CAROLINA SENTENCING AND POLICY ADVISORY COMMISSION

HB 28 - GUN VIOLENCE PREVENTION ACT [Ed. 1]

PREPARED: FEBRUARY 25, 2025

Estimated Prison Population Impact¹

SECTION 1. This section enacts G.S. 14-415.1A, possession of certain weapons by felon during the commission or attempted commission of a felony, creating three new felony offenses.

Subsection (a) sets out definitions that apply to the statute.

Subsection (b) makes it unlawful for any person who is prohibited pursuant to G.S. 14-415.1 (Possession of firearms, etc., by felon prohibited) from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction to possess a firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction during the commission or attempted commission of a felony under (i) Chapter 14 or (ii) Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes.

Subsection (c) provides the penalties for a violation of subsection (b):

- (1) A Class C felony if a person discharges the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction during the commission or attempted commission of the felony.
- (2) A Class D felony if a person brandishes the firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction during the commission or attempted commission of the felony.
- (3) A Class F felony for any other violation of subsection (b) of this section.

Subsection (d) provides that a violation of G.S. 14-415.1A is a separate offense from the underlying felony offense, and G.S. 14-415.1, and shall not merge with any other offense.

Eligible Population

No data are available to indicate the total number of people who have been convicted of a felony and are prohibited from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction under G.S. 14-415.1. Figure 1 shows the number of felony convictions for each of the past 10 years. The unit of analysis is convictions disposed of in a sentencing episode. A sentencing episode is identified from court records as the sentence imposed for the most serious conviction on a given day of court.

In Figure 1 below, offenders may be represented in more than 1 fiscal year or even within the same fiscal year if convicted on more than one date during the time period. Nevertheless, the number of offenders with felony convictions who are prohibited pursuant to G.S. 14-415.1 from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction is substantial.

¹ A threshold analysis is provided when it is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced as a result of the proposed change. For each offense class, the threshold estimate is the number of convictions that results in the need for 1 prison bed the first year.

FY 2013 FY 2014 FY 2015 FY 2016 FY 2017 FY 2018 FY 2019 FY 2020 FY 2021 FY 2022 FY 2023

SOURCE: NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission, FY 2014 - FY 2023 Structured Sentencing Simulation Data

Since the proposed bill creates three new felony offenses (Class C, Class D, and Class F), the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data for these offenses from which to estimate their impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for these new offenses. However, two separate analyses are provided below to assist in estimating the potential prison bed impact of the proposed bill. The first analysis shows the impact of the proposed legislation using thresholds based on FY 2023 convictions. The second analysis uses an eligible pool of FY 2023 convictions where offenders were convicted of both Possession of Firearm by a Felon and a Chapter 14 or Article 5 of Chapter 90 felony offense on the same day to estimate the impact of the proposed bill.

Threshold Analysis

Subsection (d) of the proposed bill provides that a violation of G.S. 14-415.1A is a separate offense from the underlying felony offense, and G.S. 14-415.1, and shall not merge with any other offense. Because of this provision, it is important to note that each of the following threshold analyses do not take into account any time offenders might serve for underlying offenses.

Class C

Under Structured Sentencing, all Class C offenders are required to receive an active sentence.² In FY 2023, the average estimated time served for an offender convicted of a Class C offense was 78 months. Twelve months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there was 1 conviction (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

² If extraordinary mitigation is found, the court may impose an intermediate punishment when only an active punishment is authorized. G.S. § 15A-1340.13(g) and (h).

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
1	1	2	3	4	5
20	21	41	61	82	102

Class D

Under Structured Sentencing, all Class D offenders are required to receive an active sentence.³ In FY 2023, the average estimated time served for an offender convicted of a Class D offense was 58 months. Twelve months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there was 1 conviction (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
1	1	2	3	4	5
20	21	41	61	82	102

Class F

In FY 2023, 53% of Class F convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 18 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there was 1 conviction (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Eligible Pool Analysis

Table 1 shows how many convictions occurred for Chapter 14 and Article 5 of Chapter 90 felony offenses in FY 2023 where the offender had two or more prior record points (which is a proxy indicator for prior felony convictions; i.e., a single prior Class H or Class I felony conviction is counted as two prior record points), as well as those that also had convictions for Possession of a Firearm by a Felon (G.S. 14-415.1) on the same day (i.e., co-occurring).⁴

³ If extraordinary mitigation is found, the court may impose an intermediate punishment when only an active punishment is authorized. G.S. § 15A-1340.13(g) and (h).

⁴ An assumption has been made that Possession of a Firearm by a Felon convictions that were sentenced on the same day as Chapter 14 and Article 5 of Chapter 90 convictions indicate a firearm or deadly weapon were part of the same transaction.

The eligible pool (shaded) represents the number of convictions in FY 2023 that met the criteria and might have qualified for the new offenses under the proposed bill.⁵ Each conviction in that column met the three primary criteria for the proposed bill: the offender was (1) already a felon (had at least 2 prior record points), (2) in possession of a firearm (convicted of Possession of Firearm by a Felon), and (3) committed or attempted to commit a Chapter 14 or Article 5 of Chapter 90 felony offense (convicted of at least 1 Chapter 14 or Article 5 of Chapter 90 offense). It is not known whether the offender discharged, brandished, or simply possessed the firearm.

Overall, there were 18,258 felony sentences imposed in FY 2023 that included either a Chapter 14 felony conviction or an Article 5 of Chapter 90 felony conviction where offenders had at least 2 prior record points (see Table 1). Of these 18,258 felony sentences imposed, 1,668 also had a Possession of a Firearm by a Felon conviction. These 1,668 cases represent the eligible pool of convictions in FY 2023 that could be impacted by the proposed bill.⁵

⁵ It is possible that some of the Chapter 14 and Article 5 of Chapter 90 convictions that do not have a co-occurring Possession of a Firearm by a Felon conviction could have had that charge dismissed, especially if the Chapter 14 or Article 5 of Chapter 90 offense was a higher class. In addition, there were 1,523 additional Possession of Firearm by Felon convictions in FY 2023 that did not have co-occurring Chapter 14 or Article 5 of Chapter 90 felony convictions that could have had Chapter 14 or Article 5 of Chapter 90 charges dismissed. These issues could be examined with more time.

⁷ 235 of the 1,112 Chapter 14 felony convictions with co-occurring Possession of Firearm by Felon convictions shown in Table 1 also had Article 5 of Chapter 90 felony convictions.

Eligible Pool Impact

This section presents the estimated impact of the proposed bill assuming the court runs the new offenses concurrently to the underlying felony offenses. As a result, the impact is only estimated for situations where the new offenses are more serious than the underlying felony offense. This section does not estimate the impact of the court running the new offenses consecutively to the underlying felony offenses, which would result in the need for additional prison beds beyond what is indicated below.

Class C

The proposed subsection (c)(1) creates a new Class C felony offense if a person, who is prohibited pursuant to G.S. 14-415.1 from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction, discharges a firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction during the commission or attempted commission of the felony. It is not known how many of the Class D through Class I convictions in the eligible pool would meet these criteria and would also be convicted of the Class C felony under the proposed bill. Impact on the prison population will occur if a Class C conviction is added to any Class D through Class I convictions under the proposed statute because of the higher rate of active sentences and longer average estimated time served. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, 25%, 50%, and the entire eligible pool added Class C convictions under the proposed subsection (c)(1).⁸ The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. In addition, there will be some impact on post-release supervision caseloads for any Class F through Class I convictions since Class C requires an additional three months of supervision.

⁸ The eligible pool contains only 10 Class H convictions and 0 Class I convictions that met the criteria for eligibility in the pool. Due to these low numbers, the threshold and a 20-conviction example are provided.

Class D

The proposed subsection (c)(2) creates a new Class D felony offense if a person, who is prohibited pursuant to G.S. 14-415.1 from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction, brandishes a firearm or weapon of mass death and destruction during the commission or attempted commission of the felony. It is not known how many of the Class E through Class I convictions in the eligible pool would meet these criteria and would also be convicted of the Class D felony under the proposed bill. Impact on the prison population will occur if a Class D conviction is added to any Class E through Class I convictions under the proposed statute because of the higher rate of active sentences and longer average estimated time served. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, 25%, 50%, and the entire eligible pool added Class D convictions under the proposed subsection (c)(2).⁹ The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. In addition, there will be some impact on post-release supervision caseloads for any Class F through Class I convictions since Class D requires an additional three months of supervision.

Class F

The proposed subsection (c)(3) creates a new Class F felony offense if a person, who is prohibited pursuant to G.S. 14-415.1 from possessing a firearm or a weapon of mass death and destruction, commits any other violation of subsection (b) during the commission or attempted commission of the felony. It is not known how many of the Class G through Class I convictions in the eligible pool would meet these criteria and would also be convicted of the Class F felony under the proposed bill. Impact on the prison population will occur if a Class F conviction is added to any Class G through Class I convictions under the proposed statute because of the higher rate of active sentences and longer average estimated time served. SECTION 2. This section reclassifies G.S. 14-415.1, Possession of firearms, etc., by felon prohibited, from a Class G felony to a Class F felony.

In FY 2023, there were 2,383 Class G felony convictions under G.S. 14-415.1 where Class G possession of a firearm by a felon was the most serious convicted offense. Impact on the prison population will occur if Class G convictions become Class F convictions under the proposed statute because of the higher rate of active sentences (53% for Class F compared to 40% for Class G) and longer average estimated time served (18 months for Class F compared to 14 months for Class G). The following table shows the estimated annual impact if the 2,383 convictions under G.S. 14-415.1 convictions in FY 2023 were reclassified from Class G to Class F. BILL NUMBER/SHORT TITLE: HB 83 – Revise Laws Governing Minors [Ed. 2]

STATUTE

§ 14-190.7. Dissemination to minors.

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (a):

A person who

1. is 18 years of age or older
2. knowingly disseminates to any minor
3. any material which the person knows or reasonably should know to be obscene within the meaning of G.S. 14-190.1 and
4. the person is at least four years older than the minor.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class H felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss from any structure designed to house or secure any activity or property, loss occasioned by the taking or removing of property or by breach of trust, formal or informal, in personal injury, or in significant societal injury as Class H felonies.

Under G.S. 14-190.7, it is currently a Class H felony when a person 18 years of age or older knowingly disseminates to any minor under the age of 16 years any material which the person knows or reasonably should know to be obscene within the meaning of G.S. 14-190.1.

G.S. 14-190.7 was reclassified from Class I to Class H effective 12/1/2023.

This bill would also add a requirement for the court at the time of sentencing to consider ordering sex offender registration if it furthers the purposes of G.S. 14-208.5.

Under subsection (c) of the bill it would be a Class A1 misdemeanor for a health care provider to knowingly and willfully commit any of the acts listed in subsection (b), for the purpose of concealing any material fact not covered under subsection (b) of this section relating to any potential claim or cause of action arising from a health care provider providing medical services.

BILL NUMBER/SHORT TITLE: HB 123 – Criminal Falsification of Medical Records [Ed. 2] (cont'd)

STATUTE

§ 14-401.28. Willful destruction, alteration, or falsification of, or willful omission of information from medical records.

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (d):

A health care provider or other individual who

1. offers or receives money or any other thing of value
2. in exchange for the destruction of, alteration of, falsification of, or omission of
3. information from a medical record for either purpose identified in subsection (a) or (b) of G.S. 14-401.28.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class I felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss or societal injury as Class I felonies.

Medical assistance provider fraud is a Class I felony. (G.S. 108A-63)

The Sentencing Commission reviewed a similar provision in March 2025 in HB 123 [Ed. 1], April 2023 in HB 298, and March 2021 in HB 195 and found it to be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class I felony. In the March 2021 report, the Commission noted that the offense would also have been consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class H felony.

Bill is consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Bill is inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Offense Classification Criteria are not applicable.

This offense would also be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class H felony. The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss from any structure designed to house or secure any activity or property, loss occasioned by the taking or removing of property or by breach of trust, formal or informal, or in significant societal injury as Class H felonies.

NORTH CAROLINA SENTENCING AND POLICY ADVISORY COMMISSION

HB 123 - CRIMINAL FALSIFICATION OF MEDICAL RECORDS [Ed. 1]

PREPARED: MARCH 5, 2025

Estimated Prison Population Impact¹¹

This bill creates two new felony offenses and one new misdemeanor offense.

This bill enacts G.S. 90-413, Willful destruction, alteration, or falsification of medical records.

Under subdivision (a)(1), it is a Class H felony for a health care provider to knowingly and willfully destroy, alter, or falsify a medical record, or to direct any person to knowingly destroy, alter, or falsify a medical record, for the purpose of concealing the commission of an error by the health care provider in providing medical services that caused injury to or the death of a patient.

Since the proposed subdivision creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2023, 35% of Class H convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 11 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
4	1	2	2	2	2
20	7	10	10	10	11

Under subdivision (a)(2), it is a Class I felony for a health care provider to knowingly and willfully destroy, alter, or falsify a medical record, or to direct any person to knowingly destroy, alter, or falsify a medical record, for the purpose of unlawfully obtaining money or any other thing of value.

Since the proposed subdivision creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2023, 16% of Class I convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 6 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 9 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
9	1	2	2	2	2

Under subdivision (a)(3), it is a Class A1 misdemeanor for a health care provider to knowingly and willfully destroy, alter, or falsify a medical record, or to direct any person to knowingly destroy, alter, or falsify a medical record, for the purpose of concealing any material fact not covered under subdivision (1) of this subsection relating to a potential claim or cause of action.

Since the proposed subdivision creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this proposed change on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2023, 36% of Class A1 misdemeanor convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average sentence length of 67 days. Structured Sentencing misdemeanants who receive an active sentence are housed in county jails either directly (90 days or less) or through the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program (more than 90 days). Therefore, convictions for this proposed offense would not be expected to have an impact on the prison population. The impact on local jail populations and the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program is not known.

Effective December 1, 2025, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

ANALYSIS

NORTH CAROLINA SENTENCING AND POLICY ADVISORY COMMISSION

HB 251 - DISASTER RESPONSE FUNDING/NONDISCRIMINATION [Ed. 1]

PREPARED: MARCH 10, 2025

Estimated Prison Population Impact¹²

This bill creates G.S. 166A-19.4. Nondiscrimination in State disaster recovery assistance, which makes it a Class I felony for a person (the State or its agencies and employees) to deny or discriminate against a United States citizen or legal resident of North Carolina for disaster recovery assistance on the basis of political affiliation or political speech.

Since the proposed bill creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2023, 16% of Class I convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 6 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 9 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
9	1	2	2	2	2
20	3	5	5	5	5

Effective December 1, 2025, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

DATA SOURCE: NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission, FY 2023 Structured Sentencing Simulation Data

¹² A threshold analysis is provided when it is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced as a result of the proposed change. For each offense class, the threshold estimate is the number of convictions that results in the need for 1 prison bed the first year.

DESCRIPTION

A person who

1. commits an assault, assault and battery, or affray and
2. in the course of the assault, assault and battery, or affray, they:
 - a. assault a public transit operator, including a public employee or a private contractor employed as a public transit operator, when the operator is discharging or attempting to discharge his or her duties; or

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class I felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss or societal injury as Class I felonies.

For the purposes of this section, the definitions for "TNC driver" and "TNC service" are as defined in G.S. 20-280.1.

These offenses are currently Class A1 misdemeanors. (G.S. 14-33(c)(7) and (9))

Certain assaults on a law enforcement, probation, or parole officer, or on a member of the North Carolina National Guard, or on a person employed at a State or local detention facility (inflicts physical injury) is a Class H felony. (G.S. 14-34.7(c))

Assault inflicting serious injury or using a deadly weapon is a Class A1 misdemeanor. (G.S. 14-33(c)(1))

Assault, assault and battery, or affray on a female, child under 12, law enforcement officer, or school employee or volunteer is a Class A1 misdemeanor. (G.S. 14-33(c))

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (a):

A person who

1. assaults another person and
2. inflicts serious bodily injury.

OFFENSE CLASS

CURRENT: Class F felony.

PROPOSED: Class E felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in significant personal injury or serious societal injury as Class F felonies.

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious personal injury as Class E felonies.

G.S. 14-32.4(d)(1) defines “serious bodily injury” as bodily injury that creates a substantial risk of death, or that causes serious permanent disfigurement, coma, a permanent or protracted condition that causes extreme pain, or permanent or protracted loss or impairment of the function of any bodily member or organ, or that results in prolonged hospitalization.

Assault with deadly weapon inflicting serious injury (G.S. 14-32(b)) and assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill (G.S. 14-32(c)) are Class E felonies.

Assaults inflicting serious bodily injury on executive, legislative, or court officer (G.S. 14-46.6(c)), as well as on law enforcement officer, probation officer, or parole officer (G.S. 14-34.7(a)) are Class E felonies.

Assault or affray on a firefighter, emergency medical technician, medical responder, and medical practice and hospital personnel (inflicting serious bodily injury or using a non-firearm deadly weapon) is a Class F felony. (G.S. 14-34.6(b))

The Sentencing Commission reviewed an identical provision in March 2025 in HB 308 [Ed. 1] and found it to be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class E felony, with a note that the offense would also be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class C felony.

Bill is consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Bill is inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

This offense would also be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class C felony. IMPACT ANALYSIS ON NEXT PAGE

NORTH CAROLINA SENTENCING AND POLICY ADVISORY COMMISSION

HB 308 - CRIMINAL LAW CHANGES [Ed. 3]

PREPARED: MARCH 20, 2025

Estimated Prison Population Impact¹³

Section 1.(a)

Amends G.S. 14-32.4. Assault inflicting serious bodily injury; strangulation; penalties, to include a new definition of “strangulation,” creates a new offense, and reclassifies two existing offenses. Under subsection (a), for assault inflicting serious bodily injury, it would raise the current offense from a Class F felony to a Class E felony.

In FY 2024, there were 130 Class F felony convictions under G.S. 14-32.4 for assault inflicting serious bodily injury. Impact on the prison population will occur if Class F convictions become Class E convictions under the proposed statute because of the higher rate of active sentences (57% for Class E compared to 54% for Class F) and longer average estimated time served (26 months for Class E compared to 18 months for Class F). The following table shows the estimated annual impact if the 130 convictions under G.S. 14-32.4 in FY 2024 were reclassified from Class F to Class E. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
130	4	41	62	62	63

Subsection (a1) creates a definition for strangulation. This definition includes, “by obstructing the nose and mouth of the person.” This definition may increase the number of assaults from lower offense classes that were not previously prosecuted under this statute.

Subsection (a2) creates a Class H felony for when a person assaults another person by strangulation. Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 36% of Class H convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 10 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

¹³ A threshold analysis is provided when it is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced as a result of the proposed change. For each offense class, the threshold estimate is the number of convictions that results in the need for 1 prison bed the first year.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
4	1	2	2	2	2
20	6	10	10	10	10

Subsection (b) is amended to reclassify the existing offense of assault on another person inflicting physical injury by strangulation from a Class H felony to a Class G felony.

In FY 2024, there were 222 Class H felony convictions under G.S. 14-32.4 for assault on another person inflicting physical injury by strangulation. Impact on the prison population will occur if Class H convictions become Class G convictions under the proposed statute because of the higher rate of active sentences (41% for Class G compared to 36% for Class H) and longer average estimated time served (15 months for Class G compared to 10 months for Class H). The following table shows the estimated annual impact if the 222 convictions under G.S. 14-32.4 in FY 2024 were reclassified from Class H to Class G. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact

222	24	47	47	47	48

Section 2.(b)

This section amends G.S. 14-33.2, habitual misdemeanor assault, by adding G.S. 14-32.5, misdemeanor crime of domestic violence, to the list of offenses for which a person can be convicted of habitual misdemeanor assault. The existing offenses that qualify for the habitual offense are G.S. 14-33, misdemeanor assault (simple and aggravated) inflicting physical injury and G.S. 14-34, assaulting by pointing gun. Adding G.S. 14-32.5 expands the scope of those who could be convicted of a Class H felony under G.S. 14-33.2, habitual misdemeanor assault. This section also adds G.S. 14-32.5 to the eligible prior convictions for misdemeanor assault which could further expand the scope of the habitual offense.

There were 82 habitual misdemeanor assault convictions in FY 2024. It is not known how many additional convictions may result from the proposed inclusion of G.S. 14-32.5 misdemeanor domestic violence. In FY 2024, there were 199 convictions for misdemeanor crime of domestic violence under G.S. 14-32.5; 121 (61%) of the 199 convictions had two or more prior convictions. However, it is not known if these prior convictions involved eligible misdemeanor assault offenses that occurred no more than 15 years prior to the date of the current violation. While the AOC database contains information on the number of prior convictions for misdemeanor convictions, it does not contain information about the specific offenses that are used to calculate the number of prior convictions or the dates that they occurred. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, 10%, 25%, and 50%, of the 121 convictions for misdemeanor crime of domestic violence with two or more prior convictions were punished as Class H habitual misdemeanor assault convictions under the proposed section. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. In addition, there will be some impact on post-release supervision (PRS) caseloads since nine months of PRS is required for offenders convicted of Class H felonies.

	% Convictions	# Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
			Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5

	25	31	10	16	16	16	16
	50	61	19	31	31	31	31

Section 3.

This section enacts G.S. 14-32.6, Habitual domestic violence. A person commits the offense of habitual domestic violence if that person commits an offense under G.S. 14-32.5 or commits an assault where the person is related to the victim by one or more of the relationship descriptions set forth in G.S. 14-32.5, and has two or more prior convictions that include either of the combination of offenses listed in the statute, with the earlier of the two prior convictions occurring no more than 15 years prior to the date of the current violation. The first offense is a Class H felony, each subsequent violation is punished one offense class higher than the offense class of the most recent prior conviction under this section, not to exceed a Class C felony.

Class H Felony

Since the proposed section creates a new felony offense (Class H), the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for the new offense. However, two separate analyses are provided below to assist in estimating the potential prison bed impact of this proposed section. The first analysis is based on FY 2024 convictions for violations of G.S. 14-32.5. The second analysis is based on a sample of FY 2024 assault convictions that might be eligible for conviction for the new offense if the person is related to the victim by one or more of the relationship descriptions set forth in G.S. 14-32.5. The analysis is limited to offenders who were convicted of violations of G.S. 14-33(a) – simple assault, assault and battery, or simple affray – and is not an exhaustive analysis of all assault offenses that could result in convictions and sentences for the proposed offense.

Violations of G.S. 14-32.5

In FY 2024, there were 199 convictions for G.S. 14-32.5 (misdemeanor crime of domestic violence); of these, 121 (61%) had two or more prior convictions. However, it is not known if these prior convictions involved G.S. 14-32.5 offenses or when they occurred. While the AOC database contains information on the number of prior convictions for misdemeanor convictions, it does not contain information about the specific offenses that are used to calculate the number of prior convictions or the dates that they occurred. Therefore, it is not known how many of these misdemeanor crimes of domestic violence would meet these criteria and would be convicted of the Class H felony under the proposed bill. Impact on the prison population will occur if these misdemeanor convictions become Class H convictions under the proposed section because of the longer estimated time served and the sentence being served in prison rather than county jail.

The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, 10%, 25%, and 50%, of the 121 convictions for misdemeanor crime of domestic violence with two or more prior qualifying assault convictions became Class H convictions under the proposed section. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. In addition, there will be some impact on post-release supervision (PRS) caseloads since nine months of PRS is required for offenders convicted of Class H felonies.

	% Convictions	# Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
			Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5

	25	31	10	16	16	16	16
	50	61	19	31	31	31	31

Violations of G.S. 14-33(a)

There are many assault offenses that could lead to a conviction for the proposed offense of habitual domestic violence. To provide an estimate of possible impact, Table 1 provides information on convictions in FY 2024 for simple assault, assault and battery, or simple affray, which are all Class 2 misdemeanors under G.S. 14-33(a). It should be noted this is an example and not an exhaustive pool of eligible offenders. The shaded column shows convictions that met two of the criteria of the proposed section: 1) convicted of a misdemeanor assault and 2) had two or more prior convictions. However, no data are available to indicate how many of the convictions in the shaded column involved a victim who was related to the offender by one or more of the relationship descriptions set forth in G.S. 14-32.5 or had prior convictions for assaults no more than 15 years prior.

In FY 2024 there were 1,714 convictions for simple assault, assault and battery, and simple affray. Of the 1,714 convictions, 804 had two or more prior convictions and could possibly meet the criteria for conviction of habitual domestic violence (see shaded column).

Table 1: Class 2 Misdemeanor Assault Convictions under G.S. 14-33(a)

Offense Description	FY 2024 Convictions	Convictions for Offenders with 2+ Prior Convictions
Assault and Battery	166	84
Simple Affray	71	35
Simple Assault	1,477	685
Total	1,714	804

Note: This is not an exhaustive list of assault offenses that could lead to a conviction for the proposed offense of habitual domestic violence. Of the 1,714 convictions, 102 (6%) had missing prior conviction information. For this analysis it was assumed that missing prior conviction information indicated no prior convictions.

Impact on the prison population will occur if these misdemeanor assault convictions become Class H convictions under the proposed section because of the longer estimated time served and the sentence being served in prison rather than county jail. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, 10%, 25%, and 50%, of the 804 convictions become Class H convictions under the proposed section. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. In addition, there will be some impact on post-release supervision (PRS) caseloads since nine months of PRS is required for offenders convicted of Class H felonies.

	% Convictions	# Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
			Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
Class H	10	81	25	41	41	41	41

	50	402	122	199	199	201	203

Sentence Enhancement for Subsequent Offense

It is also not known how many offenders may become repeat offenders under the proposed statute and thereby be eligible for punishment one offense class higher than their previous conviction for this proposed offense. The below analysis shows the impact of each subsequent violation when the offender is punished one offense class higher (starting with Class G) than the offense class of the most recent prior conviction under this section, not to exceed a Class C felony.

Class G

Impact on the prison population will occur if Class H convictions become Class G convictions under the proposed section because of the higher rate of active sentences (41% for Class G compared to 36% for Class H) and longer average estimated time served (15 months for Class G compared to 10 months for Class H). The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) per year that would be sentenced one class higher than previous convictions for this proposed offense. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
4	1	2	2	2	2
20	3	4	4	4	5

Class F

Impact on the prison population will occur if Class G convictions become Class F convictions under the proposed section because of the higher rate of active sentences (54% for Class F compared to 41% for Class G) and longer average estimated time served (18 months for Class F compared to 15 months for Class G). The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 3 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) per year that would be sentenced one class higher than previous convictions for this proposed offense. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
3	1	2	2	2	2
20	3	5	7	7	6

Class E

Impact on the prison population will occur if Class F convictions become Class E convictions under the proposed section because of the higher rate of active sentences (57% for Class E compared to 54% for Class F and longer average estimated time served (26 months for Class E compared to 18 months for Class F). The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 2 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) per year that would be sentenced one class higher than previous convictions for this proposed offense. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
2	0	1	1	1	1
20	0	6	8	8	8

Class D

Impact on the prison population will occur if Class E convictions become Class D convictions under the proposed section because of the mandatory active sentence required for Class D convictions (100% active rate for Class D compared to 57% for Class E) and longer average estimated time served (60 months for Class D compared to 26 months for Class E). The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 2 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) per year that would be sentenced one class higher than previous convictions for this proposed offense. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. In addition, there will be some impact on post-release supervision caseloads since Class D requires an additional three months of supervision.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
2	1	1	3	5	7
20	8	16	32	52	73

Class C

Under Structured Sentencing all offenders convicted of Class D (current) and Class C (proposed) offenses are required to receive an active sentence.¹⁴ Impact will occur if any of the Class D convictions become ¹⁴ If extraordinary mitigation is found, the court may impose an intermediate punishment when only an active punishment is authorized. G.S. § 15A-1340.13(g) and (h).

Class C convictions under the proposed section due to the longer average estimated time served (83 months for Class C compared to 60 months for Class D). Based on these differences in sentence lengths, impact will occur outside the 5-year projection period. Offenders will ‘stack up’ in prison as a result of the longer sentence lengths. Twelve months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation.

Section 6.

Amends G.S. 15A-1354, Concurrent and consecutive terms of imprisonment, subsection (a), such that when a judge does not specify whether multiple sentences should run concurrently or consecutively, the presumption would be for sentences to run consecutively. Currently, when a judge does not specify in their order how the sentences should run, the presumption is for multiple sentences to run concurrently. This applies when multiple sentences are imposed at the same time and when a sentence is imposed on a person who is already serving a sentence.

Felony Convictions

Of the 27,088 felony convictions under the Structured Sentencing Act (SSA) in FY 2024, 55% (n=14,764) had two or more convictions as part of their sentencing episode¹⁵ (indicating that one or more could be run consecutively) and 45% (n=12,324) had a single conviction (which could run consecutive to an existing sentence). Information was not available on convictions where the offender was already serving a sentence at the time of the conviction, so this analysis will focus on the sentencing episodes with multiple convictions. Of the 14,764 sentencing episodes that had multiple convictions, 30% (n=4,379) received consecutive sentences. The remaining 70% (n=10,385) received either concurrent sentences or the offenses were consolidated for judgment (data does not indicate which was used). This 70% represents the eligible pool that did not receive consecutive sentences but could receive consecutive sentences under the proposed bill (this analysis assumes those who received consecutive sentences would continue to do so).

Information on the number and percentage of consecutive sentences by offense class and average estimated time served is provided in Table 1, along with corresponding data for the eligible pool. Data are provided separately for active sentences and suspended sentences¹⁶ (i.e., probation); however, for this analysis active sentences are considered to be the primary eligible pool as all active sentences have a direct impact on the prison population. Only a portion of suspended sentences, if revoked due to a violation, will impact the prison population. As shown in the table, average estimated time served is substantially longer for active sentences that had consecutive sentences; nearly double the length for many offense classes. The differences in average estimated time served for suspended sentences were much less pronounced.

¹⁶ This note does not address the potential for periods of confinement as part of special probation under G.S. 15A-1351(a) to run consecutively.

It is not possible to estimate how many convictions in the eligible pool will receive consecutive sentences under the proposed section. Impact on the prison population will depend on whether plea practices and judicial practices regarding the imposition of consecutive sentences will change. If the judge selects concurrent sentences (the current default) rather than allowing the sentences to run consecutively pursuant to the proposed default, then there could be little to no impact from this change on the prison population. However, prison impact will occur for each active sentence to which consecutive sentences are applied by default due to the increase in time served. The size of the impact on the prison population will depend on the number and offense class of each of the convictions and sentences imposed in the sentencing episode that would now be served consecutively (see scenarios in Table 2). Based on average estimated time served by offense class, impact will occur within the five-year projection period for Class E – Class I convictions and outside the projection period for Class A – Class D convictions.

Table 2 shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, 10%, 25%, and 50% of active sentences in the eligible pool were to receive consecutive sentences under the proposed section (in addition to the active sentences that already received consecutive sentences, which are assumed to remain the same). While estimates are not provided for the eligible pool of suspended sentences because it is not known how many may be revoked to prison, for context, in FY 2024, 21% of exits from probation for felons resulted from revocation of probation (Department of Adult Correction, Automated System Query).

Misdemeanor Convictions

Of the 48,130 Class A1, Class 1, and Class 2 misdemeanor convictions under the Structured Sentencing Act (SSA) that resulted in either an active sentence or a probation sentence in FY 2024,¹⁷ 27% (n=13,169) had two or more convictions as part of their sentencing episode¹⁸ (indicating that one or more could be run consecutively) and 73% (n=34,961) had a single conviction (which could run consecutive to an existing sentence). Information was not available on convictions where the offender was already serving a sentence at the time of the conviction, so this analysis will focus on the sentencing episodes with multiple convictions. Of the 13,169 sentencing episodes that had multiple convictions, 15% (n=1,969) received consecutive sentences. The remaining 85% (n=11,200) received either concurrent sentences or the offenses were consolidated for judgment (data does not indicate which was used). This 85% represents the eligible pool that did not receive consecutive sentences but could receive consecutive sentences under the proposed bill (this analysis assumes those who received consecutive sentences would continue to do so).

Information on the number and percentage of consecutive sentences by offense class is provided in Table 2, along with corresponding data for the eligible pool. Data are provided separately for active sentences and suspended sentences¹⁹ (i.e., probation); however, for this analysis active sentences are considered to be the primary eligible pool as all active sentences have a direct impact on county jail populations. Only a portion of suspended sentences, if revoked due to a violation, will impact county jail populations.

DWI convictions, which are not sentenced under the SSA, are not included in the conviction count.

¹⁹ This note does not address the potential for periods of confinement as part of special probation under G.S. 15A-1351(a) to run consecutively.

Structured Sentencing misdemeanants who receive an active sentence are housed in county jails either directly (90 days or less) or through the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program (more than 90 days). Impact on county jail populations will depend on whether plea practices and judicial practices regarding the imposition of consecutive sentences will change. If the judge selects concurrent sentences (the current default) rather than allowing the sentences to run consecutively pursuant to the proposed default, then there could be little to no impact from this change on county jail populations. However, impact will occur for each active sentence to which consecutive sentences are applied by default due to the increase in time served. For misdemeanants, the cumulative length of imprisonment cannot exceed twice the longest term of imprisonment authorized for the most serious misdemeanor offense at the offender's prior conviction level.

It is not possible to estimate how many convictions in the eligible pool will receive consecutive sentences under the proposed section. Therefore, the impact on local jail populations and the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program is not known. It should be noted that if the population of offenders serving sentences in the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program exceeds capacity, additional sentenced misdemeanants will serve their sentences in DAC (i.e., prison).

Effective December 1, 2025, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

BILL NUMBER/SHORT TITLE: HB 315 – Gift Card Theft & Unlawful Business Entry [Ed. 2]
--

STATUTE

§ 14-54. Breaking or entering buildings generally.

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (b1):

A person who

1. with the intent to commit an unlawful act
2. enters any area of a building
 - (a) that is commonly reserved for personnel of a commercial business where money or other property is kept or
 - (b) clearly marked with a sign that indicates to the public that entry is forbidden.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class I felony for a second or subsequent offense.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss or societal injury as Class I felonies.

The first offense is a Class 1 misdemeanor.

Breaking or entering with the intent to commit any felony or larceny therein is a Class H felony. (G.S. 14-54(a))
Wrongfully breaking or entering any building is a Class 1 misdemeanor. (G.S. 14-54(b))

The Sentencing Commission reviewed a substantially similar provision in March 2025 in HB 315 [Ed. 1] and found it inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for Class I felony because the Structured Sentencing punishment chart takes a defendant's prior record into account through the Prior Record Level.

FINDINGS

Bill is consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Bill is inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria.

Offense Classification Criteria are not applicable.

The Structured Sentencing punishment chart takes a defendant's prior record into account through the Prior Record Level. Increasing the offense class based on prior convictions is inconsistent with Structured Sentencing.

STATUTE

§ 14-72.12. Larceny of gift cards; receiving stolen gift cards or possessing stolen gift cards.

DESCRIPTION

A person who

1. does any of the following:
 - a. Acquires or retains possession of a gift card or gift card redemption information without the consent of the cardholder or card issuer.
 - b. Obtains a gift card or gift card redemption information from a cardholder or card issuer by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises.
 - c. Alters or tampers with a gift card or its packaging with intent to defraud another.
2. and the value of the gift card is more than $1,000.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class H felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in serious property loss from any structure designed to house or secure any activity or property, loss occasioned by the taking or removing of property or by breach of trust, formal or informal, in personal injury, or in significant societal injury as Class H felonies.

A violation of this section is a Class 1 misdemeanor if the value of the gift card acquired, retained, or for which the card redemption information is obtained, or is altered or tampered with, is not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

Larceny of property (worth more than $1,000) is a Class H felony. (G.S. 14-72)

Obtaining property by false pretenses (amount involved less than $100,000) is a Class H felony. (G.S. 14-100)

Financial transaction card fraud (value over $500) is a Class I felony. (G.S. 14-113.13)

The Sentencing Commission reviewed an identical provision in March 2025 in HB 315 [Ed. 1] and found it to be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class H felony.

STATUTE

§ 14-86.6. Organized retail theft.

DESCRIPTION

Subdivisions (a)(4) and (a2)(4):

A person who

1. conspires with another person
2. to acquire or retain possession of a gift card or gift card redemption information
3. without the consent of the cardholder or card issuer.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class C felony if the value of the retail property exceeds $100,000 aggregated over a 90-day period.

IMPACT ANALYSIS ON NEXT PAGE

NORTH CAROLINA SENTENCING AND POLICY ADVISORY COMMISSION

HB 315 - GIFT CARD THEFT & UNLAWFUL BUSINESS ENTRY [Ed. 1]

PREPARED: MARCH 17, 2025

Estimated Prison Population Impact²⁰

SECTION 1. This section amends G.S. 14-54, breaking or entering building generally, by adding subsection (b1). Under subsection (b1), any person who knowingly and wrongfully enters any area of a building (i) that is commonly reserved for personnel of a commercial business where money or other property is kept or (ii) clearly marked with a sign that indicates to the public that entry is forbidden is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor for a first offense and a Class I felony for a second or subsequent offense.

Class 1 Impact for First Offense: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this proposed change on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 39% of Class 1 misdemeanor convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average sentence length of 39 days. Structured Sentencing misdemeanants who receive an active sentence are housed in county jails either directly (90 days or less) or through the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program (more than 90 days). Therefore, convictions for this proposed offense would not be expected to have an impact on the prison population. The impact on local jail populations and the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program is not known.

Class H Impact for Second or Subsequent Offense: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 36% of Class H convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 10 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
4	1	2	2	2	2
20	6	10	10	10	10

²⁰ A threshold analysis is provided when it is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced as a result of the proposed change. For each offense class, the threshold estimate is the number of convictions that results in the need for 1 prison bed the first year.

The conduct listed in subdivision (ii) could currently be punished under G.S. 14-159.13, Second degree trespass, subdivision (a)(2). Violation is a Class 3 misdemeanor. There were 3,628 Class 3 convictions in FY 2024; however, no data are available to indicate how many involved conduct covered under the proposed subdivision (ii) since the AOC offense code includes violations of subdivisions (a)(1) and (2).

Class 3 to Proposed Class 1 Impact: In FY 2024, 39% of Class 1 misdemeanor convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average sentence length of 39 days. Structured Sentencing misdemeanants who receive an active sentence are housed in county jails either directly (90 days or less) or through the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program (more than 90 days). Therefore, Class 3 misdemeanor convictions for this offense that would be reclassified to Class 1 misdemeanor convictions under this proposed bill would not be expected to have an impact on the prison population. The impact on local jail populations and the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program is not known.

Class 3 to Proposed Class H Impact: In FY 2024, 18% of Class 3 convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 8 days. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) and 20 convictions (example) that would be reclassified from Class 3 to Class H. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions. In addition, there will be some impact on post-release supervision (PRS) caseloads since nine months of PRS is required for offenders convicted of Class H felonies.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
4	1	2	2	2	2
20	6	10	10	10	10

SECTION 2. This section enacts G.S. 14-72.12, Larceny of gift cards; receiving stolen gift cards or possessing stolen gift cards. Subsection (b) makes it an offense if a person does any of the following:

1. Acquires or retains possession of a gift card or gift card redemption information without the consent of the cardholder or card issuer.
2. Obtains a gift card or gift card redemption information from a cardholder or card issuer by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises.
3. Alters or tampers with a gift card or its packaging with intent to defraud another.

Violation is a Class 1 misdemeanor if the value of the gift card is $1,000 or less. Any other violation of this section is a Class H felony.

Class 1 Impact for Gift Card Value $1,000 or Less: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate the impact of this proposed change on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 39% of Class 1 misdemeanor convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average sentence length of 39 days. Structured Sentencing misdemeanants who receive an active sentence are housed in county jails either directly (90 days or less) or through the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program (more than 90 days). Therefore, convictions for this proposed offense would not be expected to have an impact on the prison population. The impact on local jail populations and the Statewide Misdemeanant Confinement Program is not known.

Class H Impact for All Other Violations: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 36% of Class H convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 10 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

This conduct could currently be punished under the following offenses:

G.S. Number	Description	Offense Class	FY 2024 Convictions
14-159.13(b)(1)	14-72 (Larceny of property)	Class 1 misdemeanor (value of property ≤ $1,000)	8,430
		Class H felony (value of property > $1,000)	970
14-159.13(b)(2)	14-100 (Obtaining property by false pretenses)	Class H felony (amount involved < $100,000)	966
		Class C felony (amount involved ≥ $100,000)	2
14-159.13(b)(3)	None		0

SOURCE: NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission, FY 2024 Structured Sentencing Simulation Data

Class 1 to Proposed Class 1 Impact: Since the current offense (G.S. 14-159.13(b)(1)) and the proposed offense are the same class (Class 1), it would not be expected to result in the need for additional prison beds.

Class H to Proposed Class H Impact: Since the current offense (G.S. 14-159.13(b)(1) or (2)) and the proposed offense are the same class (Class H), it would not be expected to result in the need for additional prison beds.

Class H to Proposed Class 1 Impact: It is not known whether any of the 966 Class H convictions under G.S. 14-159.13(b)(2) involved conduct covered by the proposed Class 1 offense (gift card with a value of $1,000 or less). However, since the proposed conduct may also be covered by a more serious offense, it may be prosecuted as the more serious offense.

Class C to Proposed Class H Impact: It is not known whether any of the 2 Class C convictions under G.S. 14-159.13(b)(2) involved conduct covered by the proposed Class H offense. However, since the proposed conduct may also be covered by a more serious offense, it may be prosecuted as the more serious offense.

SECTION 3. This section amends G.S. 14-86.6, Organized retail theft, by adding three new offenses. Under subsection (a), a person commits the offense of organized retail theft if the person does any of the following:

- (4) Conspires with another person to acquire or retain possession of a gift card or gift card redemption information without the consent of the cardholder or card issuer.
- (5) Devises a scheme with one or more persons to obtain a gift card or gift card redemption information from a cardholder or card issuer by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises.
- (6) Conspires with another person to alter or tamper with a gift card or its packaging with intent to defraud another.

Under subsection (a2), violations are punished as follows:

- (1) An offense when the gift card value exceeds $1,500 aggregated over a 90-day period is a Class H felony.
- (2) An offense when the gift card value exceeds $20,000 aggregated over a 90-day period is a Class G felony.
- (3) An offense when the gift card value exceeds $50,000 aggregated over a 90-day period is a Class F felony.
- (4) An offense when the gift card value exceeds $100,000 aggregated over a 90-day period is a Class C felony.

Class H Impact: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 36% of Class H convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 10 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Class G Impact: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 41% of Class G convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 15 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 3 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Class F Impact: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 54% of Class F convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 18 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 2 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Class C Impact: Since the proposed section creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. Under Structured Sentencing, all Class C offenders are required to receive an active sentence.²¹ In FY 2024, the average estimated time served for an offender convicted of a Class C offense was 83 months. Twelve months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there was 1 conviction (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

BILL NUMBER/SHORT TITLE: HB 589 – The Second Look Act [Ed. 1]

STATUTE

§ 15A-1357. Modification of an imposed term of imprisonment.

DESCRIPTION

A person who

1. is serving a term of imprisonment pursuant to Article 81B or 82 of this Chapter, except those sentenced to life imprisonment,
2. may file a motion for appropriate relief in accordance with Article 89 of this Chapter
3. for a modification of the person's sentence pursuant to the authority granted in this section
4. the court shall reduce a term of imprisonment imposed upon a defendant for an offense if:
 - a. the defendant was sentenced pursuant to Article 81B or 82 of this Chapter and has served at least 10 years in prison or fifty percent (50%) of the sentence imposed if the sentence was for 10 years or less; and
 - b. the court finds, after considering the factors set forth in subsection (c) of this section, that the defendant is not a danger to the safety of any person or the community and that the interests of justice warrant a sentence modification.

PUNISHMENT RANGE

CURRENT: The offenders minimum and maximum term as required to be determined by the court in G.S. 15A-1340.13(b), as specified in G.S. 15A-1340.17.

PROPOSED: A modification to the sentence if the section's conditions are met.

ANALYSIS

Structured sentencing requires a court to specify a minimum term of imprisonment consistent with the class of the offense being imposed and the defendant's prior record level. A corresponding maximum term is set with the minimum term. See G.S. 15A-1340.13(c). An offender sentenced to an active punishment shall serve the minimum term imposed, except as provided in G.S. 15A-1340.18 [i.e., Advanced Supervised Release]. See G.S. 15A-1340.13(d).

The sentencing structure adopted by the Commission and recommended to the General Assembly was based on these underlying principles:

- Sentencing policies should be truthful
- Sentencing policies should be consistent and certain
- Sentencing policies should set resource priorities
- Sentencing policies should be supported by sufficient resources

STATUTE

§ 14-34.11. Felonious assault as a hate crime.

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (b):

A person who

1. (a) assaults another person and inflicts serious bodily injury to the person or
(b) attempts to assault a person and inflict serious bodily injury to the person
2. in whole or in part because of the actual or perceived personally identifying characteristic of a person.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class F felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in significant personal injury or serious societal injury as Class F felonies.

Assault inflicting serious bodily injury is a Class F felony (G.S. 14-32.4). Serious bodily injury is defined by statute as bodily injury that creates a substantial risk of death, or that causes permanent disfigurement, coma, a permanent or protracted condition that causes extreme pain, or permanent or protracted loss or impairment of the function of any bodily member or organ or that results in prolonged hospitalization.

It is currently an aggravating factor if the offense for which the defendant stands convicted was committed against a victim because of the victim's race, color, religion, nationality, or country of origin (G.S. 15A-1340.16(d)(17)).

Under G.S. 14-3(f), the term "personally identifying characteristic" means any characteristic protected by the nondiscrimination provisions of the International Convention on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR), identified in supporting decisions or General Comments of the United Nations Human Rights Committee (UNHRC), or both protected by the nondiscrimination provisions of the ICCPR and identified in supporting decisions or General Comments of the UNHRC.

Unless another classification is explicitly stated by statute, a felony attempt is punished at one class lower than the offense the offender attempted to commit (G.S. 14-2.5). In State v. Floyd, the NC Supreme Court held that attempted assault is a crime. See 369 N.C. 329, 794 S.E.2d 460 (2016).

The Sentencing Commission reviewed a substantially similar in June 2018 in SB 794, April 2019 in HB 312/SB 209, April 2021 in HB 354/SB 439, April 2023 in HB 596/SB 437, and in May 2024 in SB 890 and each time found it to be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class F felony.

SB 254 - ESTABLISH OFFENSE FOR POSS. OF EXPLOSIVE. [Ed. 1]

PREPARED: MARCH 26, 2025

Estimated Prison Population Impact²²

This bill amends G.S. 14-49, Malicious use of explosive or incendiary; punishment, by inserting a new subsection (a) and relabeling the existing subsection (a) to (a1). Subsection (a) makes it unlawful for any person to possess any explosive or incendiary device or material when the circumstances indicate some probability that such device or material will be used to violate the offenses in G.S. 14-49. Violation is a Class H felony.

Since the proposed bill creates a new offense, the Sentencing Commission does not have any historical data from which to estimate its impact on the prison population. It is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced for this new offense. In FY 2024, 36% of Class H convictions resulted in active sentences, with an average estimated time served of 10 months. Nine months of post-release supervision is required upon release from prison following an active sentence or revocation of probation. The following table shows the estimated annual impact if, for example, there were 4 convictions (threshold) or 20 convictions (example) for this proposed offense per year. The five-year estimate takes into account the combination of active sentences and probation and post-release supervision violations resulting in confinement, as well as estimated growth rates in convictions.

Convictions	Estimated Prison Bed Impact
	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
4	1	2	2	2	2
20	6	10	10	10	10

Regarding violations of the offenses in G.S. 14-49, there were 2 convictions for the Class G felony of maliciously damaging real or personal property by use of explosive or incendiary, there were no convictions for the two Class E felony offenses in FY 2024.

Effective December 1, 2025, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date.

DATA SOURCE: NC Sentencing and Policy Advisory Commission, FY 2024 Structured Sentencing Simulation Data

²² A threshold analysis is provided when it is not known how many offenders might be convicted and sentenced as a result of the proposed change. For each offense class, the threshold estimate is the number of convictions that results in the need for 1 prison bed the first year.

BILL NUMBER/SHORT TITLE: SB 358 – Hate Crimes Prevention Act [Ed. 1]

STATUTE

§ 14-34.11. Felonious assault as a hate crime.

DESCRIPTION

Subsection (b):

A person who

1. (a) assaults another person and inflicts serious bodily injury to the person or
(b) attempts to assault a person and inflict serious bodily injury to the person
2. in whole or in part because of the actual or perceived race, ethnicity, color, religion, nationality, country of origin, gender, gender identity, gender expression, disability, or sexual orientation of that person or a person or group associated with that person.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class F felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in significant personal injury or serious societal injury as Class F felonies.

Assault inflicting serious bodily injury is a Class F felony (G.S. 14-32.4). Serious bodily injury is defined by statute as bodily injury that creates a substantial risk of death, or that causes permanent disfigurement, coma, a permanent or protracted condition that causes extreme pain, or permanent or protracted loss or impairment of the function of any bodily member or organ or that results in prolonged hospitalization.

It is currently an aggravating factor if the offense for which the defendant stands convicted was committed against a victim because of the victim's race, color, religion, nationality, or country of origin (G.S. 15A-1340.16(d)(17)).

Unless another classification is explicitly stated by statute, a felony attempt is punished at one class lower than the offense the offender attempted to commit (G.S. 14-2.5). In State v. Floyd, the NC Supreme Court held that attempted assault is a crime. See 369 N.C. 329, 794 S.E.2d 460 (2016).

The Sentencing Commission reviewed an identical provision in June 2018 in SB 794, April 2019 in HB 312/SB 209, April 2021 in HB 354/SB 439, April 2023 in HB 596/SB 437, and in May 2024 in SB 890 and each time found it to be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class F felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which result in an unintentional killing by criminal or culpable negligence with aggravating circumstances as Class E felonies.

Voluntary manslaughter is a Class D felony (G.S. 14-18).

Involuntary manslaughter is a Class F felony (G.S. 14-18).

FINDINGS

Bill is consistent with the Homicide Offense Classification Criteria.

PROPOSED OFFENSE CLASS

Class F felony.

ANALYSIS

The Sentencing Commission classified offenses which reasonably tend to result or do result in significant personal injury or serious societal injury as Class F felonies.

G.S. 14-409.49 defines a federally licensed firearm dealer as a person who is licensed pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 923 to engage in the business of dealing in firearms.

The Sentencing Commission reviewed an identical provision in April 2023 in SB 496 and HB 705/SB 713, and in May 2024 in SB 849 and SB 852, and found it to be inconsistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class F felony but noted that the provision would be consistent with the Offense Classification Criteria for a Class H felony.
