FAMILY COURT

Facing a court matter can be an overwhelming and stressful experience, particularly when it involves family matters such as divorce, custody, or abuse. Since their inception in 1999, North Carolina Family Courts have helped families resolve difficult domestic legal issues in a timely, more affordable, and often non-adversarial manner.

Consolidating the legal issues of a family before a single judge or team of judges assigned to the family at case initiation allows the judge(s) to become familiar with the dynamics of each family and to better address their individual needs. The dedicated family court team ensures prompt and just resolution of family law issues to reduce childhood trauma that can result from contentious and lengthy legal battles.

FISCAL YEAR 2020-21

- Only 32% of pending domestic cases in family court districts were more than one year old compared to 53% in non-family court districts.
- Median case age of pending domestic cases was 148 days in family court districts compared to 433 days in non-family court districts.
- Family court districts serve 47% of the state's population.

"The introduction of Family Court in North Carolina has provided parties in domestic cases with equal and timely access to justice thereby reducing the trauma for all involved. The Family Law Court philosophy of 'One Judge/One Family' and strict hearing guidelines have brought significantly faster resolutions for families in crisis especially displaced children." — Chief District Court Judge Galen Braddy, District 3A and Family Court Advisory Commission Chair

"Children who are experiencing the angst of conflict between their parents deserve a legal system that provides access, consistency and decision-makers who are knowledgeable about the unique issues involved in domestic cases. Family Court gives children hope of a timely, thoughtful resolution so that they have a chance at succeeding and not being a statistic in either juvenile or criminal court." — Rose Stout, Family Law Attorney

Family Court respects the rights of each individual family member, promotes the best interest of the family and helps families structure their own solutions.
