Signs of a potential victim:

- Accompanied by someone who prohibits the person from speaking or answering questions; refuses privacy.
- Appears malnourished or shows signs of physical abuse, unexplained injuries.
- Inconsistencies in personal history or seems coached / programmed.
- Excessively fearful, submissive, depressed, anxious, withdrawn, or nervous.
- Has few or no possessions; not in possession of their own documents.
- May have multiple hotel room keys and more than one cell phone.
- Wears expensive clothing or accessories that were "gifts."
- Mentions making a lot of money in a short period of time but can't state how.
- Is homeless due to running away, being forced to leave home, or otherwise displaced.

Men, women, and children are forced and coerced into labor and sex trafficking every day. If you see something that looks suspicious, say it.

You could save someone's life today.
